

Biodata

Dr. Girdhari Lal Kumawat is an Assistant Professor cum Jr. Plant Pathologist at ICAR-AICRP on Spices, SKN Agriculture University, Jobner, Rajasthan. Ph.D. in Plant Pathology, did his B. Sc.(Agriculture) in 2004 from SKN Agriculture University, Jobner, Rajasthan and M. Sc. (Plant Pathology) in 2006 from CSA University & Technology, Kanpur. He had qualified four times for ICAR-NET from ASRB, Pusa, New Delhi. He has published more than 100 research papers, abstracts, review articles, popular articles, book chapters and technical bulletin etc. in reputed national and international journals. He is a Life member of several Scientific Societies. He has presented his research work at several National and International conferences/seminars/workshops in India. He has received a different awards during conferences/seminars/workshops. He has been honoured with the Young Scientist Award, Best poster award, Vinay Kumar Verma Memorial Gold Medal, Sr. Research Fellow (SRF), Jr. Research Fellow (JRF). He has contributed significantly to Plant Protection. He has more than 8 year Teaching and research experience. Now he is teaching and researching activities at SKN Agriculture University, Jobner, Rajasthan. He is teaching undergraduate and postgraduate students and researching in seed spices i.e cumin, coriander, fenugreek, fennel, ajwain and minor seed spices and developed 15 technologies and 5 varieties.